

Note: The rows are names of board members. The columns are types of skills. These skills are just examples. The board should begin by having a discussion of what skills they need on the board. It may vary by organization.