There are over 750 people in need of a state hospital bed with a wait time of 9.8 months for males and 8.8 months for females. These investments help in significantly improving the state's mental health and forensic capacity.

- The Amended FY 2026 budget provides $243,750 in additional funding to the jail-based restoration program at the Cobb County Jail, which has served 132 patients from over 30 counties since its opening in January 2023. In FY 2025, courts ordered over 2,500 adult pre-trial and 1,400 juvenile evaluations to determine mental competency for stand trial. There is a backlog of 800 people who have been deemed incompetent and are awaiting treatment from DBHDD, but there is more than 400-day wait for state hospital bed. This jail-based program allows for individuals to be treated within the jail, alleviating the burden of hospital beds and reducing the forensic waitlist.
- The Department of Human Services (DHS) receives $8.8 million for technology projects including child support case management system maintenance and Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) error reduction methods.
- The General Assembly appropriates $3 million to initiate a new integrated child welfare reporting system which provides a secure platform to connect mandated reporters with government agencies, enabling early detection, faster service, and increased accountability.

- The General Assembly provides an infusion of $90.4 million for the Department of Corrections (GDC) including $17.7 million in new funding for the department to make needed safety, security, and technology upgrades to its infrastructure. This appropriation provides necessary technology and security enhancements to keep both inmates and correctional staff safe. Upgrades include $13.3 million for security technology to detect and prevent the introduction of contraband. The House has spearheaded locking control renovations to keep prisoners secure. This budget recommends $84.5 million to install six new locking control systems and design two new systems.

- House Bill 973 also provides $32.7 million to the department for physical, mental, and dental services to continue to provide these necessary services to inmates.

- The General Assembly provides $4.3 million to GDC for food and farm costs. These funds will purchase and repair food and farm equipment, as well as provide increases to reflect the rise in the cost of food and labor. The cost to feed inmates has increased over the last five years, largely due to exponential increases in food costs. Adding needed equipment to the farm program will help stabilize the cost of food by ensuring the state is maximizing the amount of food grown internally to support the prison population.
- The General Assembly funds $10.3 million for the local jail subsidy to provide reimbursement for the cost of housing inmates who have been sentenced, but not transferred to state custody for more than 15 days. The prison diagnostic center, where inmates are received into state custody, is experiencing a backlog.
- The budget also includes $1.5 million for a new reimbursement program to target and relieve the burden on local jails when more than 20 percent of the jail's capacity is occupied by detainees charged with contraband or drone-related offenses tied to state prisons but are unable to make bail. Long-term housing of these detainees has become a burden to small counties with limited resources. These rural counties are instrumental in the capture of these detainees; expending their own resources, purchasing drones to help detect contraband runners, and utilizing county personnel to help the state capture the individuals perpetrating dangerous gang-related contraband drops into our state prisons.
- The General Assembly supports the Governor's recommendation to appropriate $2.5 million for new juvenile correctional officer positions created by increased retention as a result salary increases from $27,936 in Fiscal Year 2021 to $44,762 in Fiscal Year 2026, provided by the governor and General Assembly. The Regional Youth Detention Centers have 127 more positions filled now, than in November of 2022, representing a 27% increase over four years.
- House Bill 973 provides one-time funding of $4.5 million to domestic violence shelters and sexual assault centers for operational and facility needs. This additional funding impacts 47 domestic violence shelters and 53 sexual assault centers and satellite locations. This budget also provides $185,241 to eight child advocacy centers and 19 child advocacy center satellites not currently receiving state funding starting April 1, 2026. Victim services programs throughout the state are struggling to secure funding because of a reduction in federal funding over the last few years.
- The Georgia Emergency Management and Homeland Security Agency's Amended Fiscal Year 2026 budget includes $6.1 million for emergency preparedness, security grants to non-profits, and NextGen 911 funding.

Transportation

- In the Department of Transportation, the Capital Construction program receives nearly $37 million for increased project capacity; the LMIG program increases by $7.2 million; the Routine Maintenance program receives $21.9 million for increased maintenance costs; and the Traffic Management and Control program receives $6.8 million for increased contract and traffic signal equipment costs.
- In addition to the mid-year true-up of the Local Maintenance and Improvement Grant (LMIG), the Amended FY 2026 budget includes an infusion of $250 million in the Local Road Assistance Administration program, which does not require a local match.
- To address a major congestion corridor for both freight and residents, HB 973 provides a one-time payment of $1.68 billion to the State Road and Tollway Authority (SRTA) to fund the extension and bi-directional expansion of I-75 express lanes in Clayton and Henry counties. I-75 South Metro Express Lanes reported five million trips in FY 2025, an 84% increase since FY 2018. The daily average number of vehicles that cannot utilize the express lane due to the lane operating in the opposite direction of their travel is estimated between 87,000 and 126,000.
- The budget also includes $185 million for SR 316 interchange conversions, a roadway that includes nine of the top 100 most dangerous intersections in the state. Approximately 105,000 vehicles travel daily along the route in Gwinnett County and approximately 35,000 vehicles travel daily in Barrow and Oconee Counties.
- House Bill 973 provides $100 million for the rehabilitation and replacement of rural bridges throughout the state. The cost of bridge replacement construction has increased by 93% in the last five years. GDOT has a list of rural bridges in need of repair or replacement and is prioritizing bridges vital to agribusiness and timber projects for the funding.
- The budget also includes an infusion of $11 million in the Airport Aid program, bolstering the state's airports that serve as important sources of local economic development. The list of state-funded airport aid requests is currently over $96 million. This increase brings the total state funding for airport aid to $41 million for FY 2026.
- The General Assembly funds $8.4 million for the Rail program for repairs, replacement, and upgrades to state-owned shortline rail. There are 465 miles of state-owned rail.
